Hey [REDACTED]

Nice to meet you. The reporting party didn't give an amount of asbestos removed or the amount that was still on the property. He stated he cleaned up the property throughout the summer of 2014 and removed dumpsters full of various material.

It was unclear when/how the barrels were disposed of in the lake.

I did a recent search of the PFAS, and I can see how it is gaining traction media-wise.

I'm able to help with interviews and such, but I will be out of the office on vacation from 1/11 through 1/20. Just let me know what works best for you.

Regards,
[REDACTED]

Hi [REDACTED] -

Nice to hear from you.

Negative in our database regarding you alleged subjects.

Is there a quantity of asbestos that has been illegally removed or disposed of?

And what about the 1200 barrels at the bottom of the lake? Illegally disposed of?

That firefighting foam typically contains PFAS - check the news about what is going on in the state regarding this newer hazardous chemical.

We would be happy to open up a lead on this and interview the guy to get some of the specifics. And, we would be happy to partner with FBI regarding this interview.

Please let me know.

Thanks.

Subject: Questions!

Hey, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] (fully vetted and very Un-[REDACTED]-like...[REDACTED]) received a walk-in complaint regarding environmental concerns he has in the Williamston area. The gentleman advised he was cleaning out property and discovered what he believed to be asbestos. When the substance was confirmed as being asbestos the complainant declined to proceed with the commitment to clean out the property. He states he reported the asbestos to the Ingham County Health Department and the state of Michigan DEQ. He feels nothing was done to address this by either entity. Additionally, the complainant also wished to lodge a complaint about Crego Lake and [REDACTED]. He says that diver's in the lake discovered more than 1200 barrels of fire-fighter foam at the bottom of the lake. He feels nothing was done about this as well.

an you please have someone check your systems for any other complaints lodged about Crego Lake or [REDACTED]? I'd like to give this just enough attention to make sure we took a solid complaint. I don't suspect this is going any further than that.

The complainant is: [REDACTED].

You can reply to both [REDACTED] and I with questions.

Thank you!! Hope all is well!
